SUSAN DOROTHEA WHITE (1941-)

Celebrating 50 years of White's multidisciplinary art in a unique survey of her prints 1960-2010.

When asked what has sustained her art making for more than 50 years, outstanding Australian artist Susan Dorothea White said "My work is inspired by my passion for human rights issues, the environment, and by my love of family, art, and music...personal experience also fuels my creativity".

FyreGallery is very proud to have been chosen to present the first survey show of Susan Dorothea White's prints spanning 50 years of her artistic career. White's splendid and sometimes confronting works show her mastery of drawing and technical printmaking skills. Better known in recent decades for her sculpture and painting, her 2010 prints created especially for this show demonstrate her unique blend of creativity and consciousness. After five decades she has lost none of her edge while continuing to proclaim her love of life and her desire to share her passions through her art.

Gallery Director, Cheryl Hannah, invites you to come and enjoy this rare opportunity to see the life journey of an artist as it has unfolded since White began in 1960 and continues strongly into 2010 and beyond.
